Year Test 1

A Celine, you are a children's book writer. You write about schools in your Wild School books. Why is that?
B Well, I didn't like my school when I was young. I thought Science and Drama were boring. And of course they aren't boring. There were a lot of rules.
A Do you remember any?
B Oh yes. For example: Don't talk in class. Don't ask questions. Don't read comics at school…
A I see…
B ...and I wanted to create a new school in my stories. So in my books, the children can decide the rules.
A Can you give us an example?
B Yes. In Science lessons the students can do magic.
A Like Harry Potter?
B Well, yes. But I wrote my books before Harry Potter arrived!
A Are you going to write any more Wild School books?
B Well there are five and I'm writing one more now, then stopping!

Year Test 2

A This week Track Record meets top athlete, the marathon runner, Mike Magarve, in his New York home.
B Mike, you work very hard as an athlete. Can I ask you about your diet and your fitness programme?
C Sure.
B Let's start with your diet. What's your typical daily diet?
C Before I go out running, I always have a good breakfast. I usually have fresh fruit and yoghurt three times a week.
B What type of fruit do you like?
C I like apples, oranges, strawberries and bananas. But I run at least fifteen miles a day, and I often run seventy five, or even one hundred miles a week so I need more than just fruit...
B Of course! So what do you have?
C I eat a lot of pasta and vegetables because they give me energy. And it's important to have some nuts as well.
B Well, thanks for talking to us Mike. That's all we've got time for this week on Track Record, but…
