Computer Safety

The Internet now connects people in ways that are completely new: You can tell all your friends about your activities with one click. You can buy things that aren't in shops. You can play games with people on the other side of the world.

All of these things are convenient and fun but you need to be careful too. When you use the Internet, only visit sites your parents and teachers trust. Some websites can take your information and sell it to other people. This is especially dangerous if you show your home address, your school name or your location. You also need to be careful when you make new friends on the Internet. Never plan to visit a person you meet online. People can use false names and information to hurt you or other people. Finally, be kind to others. Don't use the Internet to embarrass or make fun of other people. It's not cool and it isn't funny. The Internet is great when you use it well. Be connected and have fun!

Thanks for your e-mail. It's great that you were with your grandparents last summer. Here are some pictures of my friends Roger, Chris and Val. We weren't together at summer camp this year. We were in different places.

The girl is my friend Val. She was at the zoo with her brother Tom. The animals were nervous, so they were nervous too. In the photo, Roger was at an amusement park. He was thirsty all the time because it was hot and sunny. The other boy is Chris. He was at a summer camp. He looks scared because there were very strange noises at night. The Olympic Games

The Olympic Games take their name from ancient Greek legend. The Greek god Zeus fought against a god named Kronos on a high mountain and he won. At the bottom of the mountain people built a temple to celebrate Zeus's victory. They named this place Olympia. The first Olympic Games took place in Olympia in 776 BC. The only competition was a race. After a hundred years, they added other sports like boxing and jumping. Only men and boys watched and participated in the Olympic Games. After many years, the Romans came to Greece and stopped the Olympic Games. The first modern Olympic Games took place in 1896. It included many original Olympic sports and new sports, too. People from all nations, men and women, could participate. The Olympic Games occur every four years, in a different city each time.
